

Monday, December 9, 2013

12noon - 1pm

Lake View Terrace D,
California State University,
Northridge

Sponsored by Religious Studies and Queer Studies

Jesse Bering on
“The Belief Instinct and
Sexual Deviance”

Jesse Bering, PhD, is a regular contributor to Scientific American and Slate, and has written for many other outlets, including New York Magazine, The Guardian, The New Republic, The New York Times, and Discover. He has written three books, “The Belief Instinct”, “Why is the Penis Shaped like that?” and “Perv: The Sexual Deviant in all of us”. Notable for his frank and humorous handling of controversial issues, Bering argues that a belief in the afterlife and sexual “deviance” are more common than we care to admit.

All CSUN Faculty/Students welcome. SEATING IS LIMITED. PLEASE RSVP to Claire White (claire.white@csun.edu) to ensure admission.